Invitation to sponsor

The ACTRA ASM Organising Committee invite you to sponsor our 16th Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) and Continuing Education Day taking place on 28th-30th August at Canberra's Rex Hotel.

The theme of this year's ASM is 'Climatotoxicology: Assessing Risk in a Time of Rapid Change'.

As highlighted in Australia's 2021 State of the Environment Report, long-term changes in climate, including the increased frequency of extreme weather events, place pressure on many aspects of the biosphere.

We hope to bring together scientists, researchers, industry representatives, policymakers, consultants, and advocates to provide a forum for active discussion and learning; discussions will focus on the intricate relationship between climate change, human and environmental health. Conference presentations will tackle the challenges that climate change brings to human and environmental health risk assessment; and the need to become adaptable in our processes to enable consideration of our changing world.

The conference will aim to explore aspects such as the following:

- Consideration of changing environmental conditions in risk assessments for foods (and food supply), water, soil, and air.
- Impacts of climate on frequency and severity of public, occupational and environmental exposures.
- Climate change and changes in pesticide practices and impact on risk assessment.
- The interaction between climate change and antimicrobial resistance.
- Applying Indigenous knowledge for improved natural resource management in a changing and variable climate.

We hope you will join us and contribute to fruitful learning and discussion, meaningful connections, and an inspiring exchange of ideas.

Sincerely,

Tarah Hagen
ACTRA President

Lana Barbour and Rhian Cope
Conference Co-chairs

When and where

The 16th ASM will be held at the Rex Hotel, 150 Northbourne Ave, Braddon ACT from the 29th - 30th August 2024. The ASM will be preceded by the Continuing Education day on the 28th August 2024.

The conference expects to attract between 80 and 130 delegates from all states and territories of Australia.

Key reasons to sponsor

- Maximise your company's exposure and increase your brand awareness;
- Directly promote your products and services within a relevant professional environment to delegates all under one roof at one time;
- Enhance your image within the toxicology and risk assessment community;
- Network and build new relationships;
- Interact with delegates face-to-face;
- Advertise in ASM print materials and on the ASM website;
- Foster the continuing education of toxicology and risk assessment in Australia;
- Sponsor the not-for-profit society of ACTRA to enable continuing provision of education and networking opportunities in the fields of toxicology and risk assessment

Who will be attending

- Toxicologists, ecotoxicologists, exposure scientists (academic, industry and government)
- Human and environmental health risk assessors
- Consultants
- Environmental managers
- Industrialists
- Occupational hygienists
- Occupational physicians
- Contaminated land practitioners
- Chemical regulators and policy makers in governments agencies (state and federal)
- Research scientists, including postgraduate students

About ACTRA

Australasian College of Toxicology & Risk Assessment (ACTRA) is a not-for-profit, worldwide professional organisation dedicated to the advancement of the study and applications of toxicology and health risk assessment as professional scientific disciplines. ACTRA's mission is to cultivate and maintain the highest standards of professional practice and ethics in persons engaged in the sciences of toxicology and health risk assessment.

ACTRA administers a peer-reviewed Registration Program to recognise and maintain the professional competence of scientists from Australia and New Zealand. Registrants must demonstrate appropriate educational and professional achievements and maintenance of registration requires continuing education and professional activity.

Members of ACTRA are representatives of government, industry, academia and the public and private health industries.

ACTRA hosts Annual Scientific Meetings, Continuing Education Days, seminars, webinars, and workshops providing the toxicology and risk assessment community with further opportunities for connection and collaboration within ACTRA and beyond, leading to unique experiences and a variety of viewpoints to challenge thinking and inspire best practice.
